A day of REMEMBRANCE

Memorial Day events return to local communities

Next Monday will be the national celebration of Memorial Day, a day of remembrance and honor for those who have died in service of our country.

While many celebrate the day, few are aware of the significance and history of the event which began as Decoration Day in the 1860s to honor soldiers who died in the Civil War. That war, which ended in the spring of 1865, claimed more lives than any conflict in U.S. history and required the establishment of the first national cemeteries in the country.

Memorial Day was originally celebrated on May 30 but in 1968, Congress approved the Uniform Monday Holiday Act, establishing the holiday would always fall on the last Monday in May.

Memorial Day became a federal holiday in 1971 under President Richard Nixon.

Despite the effects of the COVID 19 pandemic, many local communities are attempting to celebrate the holiday this year.

Memorial Day is traditionally celebrated by visiting cemeteries or memorials, enjoying family gatherings and watching or participating in patriotic parades.

Unofficially, the holiday marks the beginning of the summer season. Technically, the first day of summer is marked by the June Solstice, which falls on June 20 or 21 every year.

Each year on Memorial Day a national moment of remembrance takes place at 3 p.m. local time. It is unclear where exactly this tradition originated; numerous different communities may have independently initiated the memorial gatherings.

In December 2000, Congress approved a law that "requires" Americans to pause at 3 p.m. on Memorial Day and take a moment of silence to honor the fallen.

The time was designated as the National Moment of Remembrance and serves as an act of national unity in remembering all of the men and women who have given their lives in service of the United States.The time was chosen because that is when most Americans are enjoying their freedoms during the holiday.

A Gallup poll released on March 26, 2000 revealed that, for the most part, a solid majority of Americans got the general concept of what Memorial Day was about, but only 28 percent knew, with confidence, the exact meaning of the holiday.

What likely caught lawmakers' attention, however, was how Americans spend their time on Memorial Day. President Bill Clinton signed into law the National Moment of Remembrance so that all Americans were encouraged to take a moment to remember what Memorial Day is truly about.

For those who enjoy watching baseball on Memorial Day, every Major League Baseball game halts in recognition of the National Moment of Remembrance. Other participants include Amtrak, NASCAR, NASA, the Statue of Liberty, the Liberty Bell, and hundreds more.

CANTON TOWNSHIP

In Canton Township the Honor Guard of the Canton Fire Department will be hosting a Memorial Day service at 10 a.m. Monday, May 31 at the Veteran's Memorial Center located in Heritage Park directly behind the Canton Administration Building, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, in Canton.

There will be a ceremonial wreath posting at the 1st Battalion 24th Marine Division Memorial by the Canton Fire Honor Guard.

A roll call will also take place for the "Fallen 22" Marines that were deployed for duty in 2006-07 to Iraq and made the ultimate sacrifice.

The public is invited to attend this memorial service honoring the Marines and all service members who put our great nation before their own lives.

PLYMOUTH

Again this year, the Lions Club of Plymouth, in cooperation with the City of Plymouth, will mark the Memorial Day holiday with procession residents can view from the comfort of their own neighborhoods.

Veterans will proceed throughout the city in vehicles and residents along the route are invited to use their creativity to decorate their homes and yards.

The procession will begin at 10 a.m. on May 31 at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. After a short program at Veterans Park, the procession will continue. To estimate when it will arrive in a specific neighborhood, tune into 88.1 The Park on FM radio for live coverage.

The route map may be viewed at https://plymouthmi.gov.

Plymouth Township will also be marking the holiday with a Memorial Day service at noon on Monday, May 31 at the Wayne County First Responders Memorial, located on Haggerty Road at Hines Drive.

The township and local officials will be honoring fallen service members and first responders.

The event is open to the public.

WESTLAND

There will be a Memorial Day parade in Westland to celebrate and remember veterans of all armed services.

According to Vic Barra who is organizing the event, the parade is a tribute to "the men and women who have made the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom, while we continue to honor the many veterans who have courageously served our country. We gather to support and applaud their service to our nation and community."

The parade will start at 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 30 beginning at John Glenn High School in Westland; travel west on Marquette Road to Carlson; head north on Carlson to the Westland William P. Faust Public Library. The march will end at the Veteran's Memorial Garden in Westland.

This year, the parade will feature high school marching bands, the World Champion Westland Meteors Football Team and Cheer Squad, Cub Scout Packs, Girl Scout Troops, Westland Youth Athletic Association, the Shriners and the Freedom Riders Motorcycle Group as well as the Legion Riders.

A small ceremony will take place at the Veteran's Memorial Garden, located behind the Westland Public Library at 6123 Central City Parkway. The remembrance ceremony at the end of the parade will feature guest speakers and a 21 gun salute among other tributes to those fallen men and women who sacrificed their lives in our names, Barra said.

Any organization interested in participating in the parade should fill out the online participation request form on the City of Westland website. For information, or to register by phone, call Barra at (734) 793-9309.

Canton

Veteran police officer retires after 25 years

Canton Township Police Department Sgt. Dale Waltz will officially retire at the end of this month after a quarter of a century on the job.

Waltz began his 25-year career with the Canton department in 1996 as a Public Safety Service Officer (PSSO), performing the tasks of call taker, dispatcher and jail attendant. Two-years later, he took a leave of absence and put himself through the police academy and in 1999, he tested for and was promoted to the position of police officer.

Department administrators took note of the organizational benefits of a PSSO transitioning to a sworn officer and soon after put a formal program into place, of which 18 full-time PSSOs have since participated and been promoted to either a police officer or firefighter within the township.

Early on, in addition to his road patrol duties, Waltz held several special assignments including training instructor, Explorer team advisor, evidence technician, and field training officer. Waltz also served several years assigned to the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park as a school resource officer where he made a positive impact on students attending the high school campus, officials said.

Waltz was promoted to the rank of sergeant in 2013, serving as a platoon supervisor providing leadership, training and direction to his assigned shift of patrol officers. He was also responsible for administrative assignments and special projects.

Most notably, Waltz was influential in cultural awareness training within the organization, and he played a significant role on the department original Canton Response to Hate Crimes Coalition, bringing people of different backgrounds together for the common purpose of working toward an inclusive community.

Waltz has been recognized on numerous occasions by citizens expressing their appreciation of his patient and courteous demeanor, officials said. He displayed a natural ability of putting people at ease during their most stressful and sometimes traumatic events, they added and said Waltz carried these traits of kindness, respect and humor into his leadership role, working to build a competent and compassionate work force.

"Sgt. Dale Waltz has been an active member of the department, putting great effort into all of his assignments and undertakings," said Chad Baugh, police chief. "Dale's compassion for humanity has been a strength throughout his career-driving his dedication for the betterment of the organization and the residents he so proudly served," Baugh said.

Father who shot son will serve probation

The man who accidentally killed his 8-year-old son while cleaning a rifle will serve three years probation.

Nicholas Bennett

Nicholas Bennett pleaded guilty to carelessly discharging a firearm causing injury or death, a lesser charge than the involuntary manslaughter crime prosecutors originally filed against him. Bennett, 34, was also ordered by Third Circuit Judge Darnella Williams-Claybourne to pay nearly $1,500 in fines and court costs. As part of his probation, as ordered by the court, Bennett cannot possess any firearms and he cannot be in the company of anyone possessing firearms.

The boy's death took place the afternoon of Dec. 15 as Bennett was working on a rifle in the family home on Old Michigan Avenue in Canton Township. The gun discharged, striking and killing the 8-year-old who was in the same room. The child was transported by Canton emergency responders to a nearby hospital.

Yankee Air Museum offers World War II plane rides

Yankee Air Museum will be flying its UH-1 Huey Greyhound helicopter on Saturday, May 29 and Hairless Joe, the C-47 troop transport on Sunday, May 30 in celebration of the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

"We are encouraging everyone to take a ride on the adventurous side this holiday weekend," exclaimed Kevin Walsh, president and CEO of Yankee Air Museum. "Our World War II era C-47 and Vietnam era UH-1 Huey are each the venerable workhorse of the conflict in which they flew. People flying on these aircraft pay homage to the men and women who sacrificed so much for us. Their support keeps us flying."

Hairless Joe is the Douglas C-47 Skytrain, painted to honor the 1st Air Commando Group flying missions in the China-Burma-India Theater of World War II. Hairless Joe is named in honor of the C-47 flown by Lt. Col. Dick Cole who was co-pilot to Jimmy Doolittle in the famed Doolittle Raid of April 1942. C-47s were often the tip of the spear during World War Two, inserting paratroopers behind enemy lines prior to massive invasions, including D-Day and Burma.

The unmistakable sound of the Bell UH-1 helicopter rotor struck fear in the enemy, and hope in the hearts of the wounded in Vietnam, Walsh said. The UH-1 was affectionately called the Huey and it was the game changer of the United States Army, landing soldiers into battle and evacuating the wounded. The Yankee Air Museum owns and operates a combat veteran of the 240th Assault Helicopter Company, known as the Greyhounds," Walsh added.

"The museum works hard to preserve and protect aviation artifacts, and it is expensive," said Walsh. "Our Air Adventures and these living history experiences create lasting memories. A ride on a warbird is something to scratch off your bucket list and write into your history."

Air Adventure rides on the Huey are available every 15 minutes beginning at 11 a.m. Saturday into the afternoon. Rides are $99 for an 8-minute flight. These flights originate from the north lot of Yankee Air Museum, 47884 D Street, in Belelville.

Rides on the C-47 are scheduled for noon and 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 30. The rides last 20 minutes and cost $195. These flights depart from Yankee Air Museum's Bay 7 at Hangar 1, Willow Run Airport, West Side, 801 Kirk Profit Drive, Ypsilanti.

To book a flight visit www.yankeeairmuseum.org and click on "Fly With Us." Additional flight times may be added, on both days, as customer demand warrants.

Yankee Air Museum will be closed on Memorial Day, May 31.

Industrial Park is fully leased

Kansas City-based developer NorthPoint Development has nearly completed a two-building industrial park, Ecorse Commons, in Romulus.

The buildings total 654,000 square feet of industrial space and NorthPoint Development officials say the development is already fully leased. NorthPoint partnered with local brokerage firm CBRE, Lauren Scarpace and Eugene Agnone III to lease the development in just 12 months. Tenants scheduled to occupy the buildings include retail logistics, warehouse distribution and supply chain solutions, according to a NorthPoint representative.

Ecorse Commons was a large-scale Brownfield vacant property previously owned by the Racer Trust portfolio, officials said. Northpoint management opted to invest in the Romulus community for the opportunity to responsibly redevelop the site to create long term sustainability for the neighborhood. The site offers convenient highway access for beneficial transportation for warehouse distribution and manufacturing. Romulus features an abundant labor force to help support ecommerce growth and the expansion of economic development for the local community, he added.

NorthPoint expanded Ecorse Road with a turning lane to provide support for operational businesses in the new development.

Bond sale will help fund city retiree pension debt

Westland has found a way to pay the majority of the city unfunded pension liability for former city employees.

Mayor William R. Wild said that a successful debt refinancing completed in March will result in significant savings to the city. Westland issued $82,470,000 in bonds to pay for a majority of the costs of the unfunded pension liability for the defined benefit pension plan for government employees administered by the Michigan Employees Retirement System of Michigan (MERS).

The new savings are the result of refinancing $12,460,000 in Tax Increment Financing Authority (TIFA) bonds which were originally utilized to finance the new city hall and Ralph Savini Fire Station projects. The new interest rate for the bonds came in at 2.005 percent. By issuing the 2021 bonds at this low fixed rate, the city will realize $1.5 million in savings over the life of the 2021 bonds and the maturity date will remain the same (2034). This will result in savings of $127,000 in the first year alone, Wild explained.

"Once again Westland was able to take advantage of our excellent bond rating and historically low interest rates to save tax dollars," Wild said.

$6 million cannabis processing plant breaks ground

It has taken more than four years to cultivate, but a new $6 million Black-owned marijuana growing and processing facility is scheduled to open in Inkster this fall.

Members of the Inkster City Council first approved the city-ordinances allowing the facility in October of 2019. Groundbreaking at the huge, 25,500-square-foot building took place last Friday. The cannabis growing and distribution facility is being built by Michigan Agricultural Services.

Mark Stockdale, the founder and CEO of the business said that financing and capital investment were hurdles the company had to overcome during the planning of the facility.

"We've had financial humps that we've had to get over. We're coming from way behind. We don't have access to capital like a lot of other ethnicities."

In addition to the raising of capital, the lack of Black operators in the marijuana industry prompted the direction of the business, Stockdale said. His wife, Christina McPhail-Stockdale, who serves as chief legal counsel for the business, will provide legal expungement services for those with criminal records who are hoping to work in the cannabis industry.

> It's important that not only do individuals get an opportunity to work in the cannabis arena, but to be eligible to do so.

That decision was prompted by Stockdale's struggle and supported by Sahir Al-Salam, who serves as the community liaison and head of investor relations for the company. They agreed that their struggle in financing was not unique and prompted their decision to attempt to "give back" to the community.

"It's important that not only do individuals get an opportunity to work in the cannabis arena, but to be eligible to do so," McPhail-Stockdale said. "And as we all know, felonies and certain convictions can be a hindrance to work any job regardless if it's cannabis or not."

The new building at 2615 Bayham in the city will distribute both medical and recreational facility and Stockdale said the facility will distribute to dispensaries. He said future plans include branding of cannabis products by Michigan Agricultural Services.

The facility is expected to be open this fall utilizing a portion of the building and could employ as many as 50 workers when complete.

Stockdale said the company would begin following up on job applications and employment inquiries next week.

Click it or Ticket program is now under way

While families are celebrating the Memorial Day holiday this weekend, local law enforcement officers will be out trying to save lives.

Officers from local police departments, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police will all be on patrol conducting seat belt enforcement across the state during the Click It or Ticket campaign that will continue until June 6.

"So often, critical injuries and the loss of life on our roadways could have been prevented with the simple click of a seat belt," said Michael L. Prince, OHSP director. "Wearing a seat belt is the easiest and most effective thing you can do to reduce injuries and save lives. Buckle up every trip, every time."

The City of Northville public safety department along with officers in the City of Wayne will be participating in the campaign to increase seat belt use.

"During the campaign, we'll be working with our fellow law enforcement officers across the state to ensure the message gets out to drivers and passengers to buckle up," said Northville Police Cpt. Greg Hannewald. "We cannot overstate the importance of wearing a seat belt. It's the law but more than that, buckling up is the simplest thing you can do to limit injury or save your life during a crash.

"We see the results of not wearing a seat belt all the time. We see the loss of life. So often, it could have been prevented with the simple click of a seat belt," he added.

According to the University of Michigan Traffic Research Institute (UMTRI), in 2019, 217 people killed in Michigan traffic crashes were not wearing a seat belt.

Men make up the majority of those killed in motor vehicle traffic crashes nationwide. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), in 2019, 65 percent of the 22,215 passenger vehicle occupants who were killed were men. Men also wear their seat belts at a lower rate than women do - 51 percent of men killed in crashes were unrestrained compared to 40 percent of women killed in crashes.

Young adults are also at a higher risk of being killed because of riding unrestrained. In 2019, more than half (57 percent) of young adults 18 to 34 years old who were killed while riding in passenger vehicles were not buckled up.

"If this enforcement period wakes people up to the dangers of unrestrained driving, we'll consider our mission to be a success," said Hannewald. "If you know a friend or family member who doesn't buckle up, please ask them to consider changing their habits. Help us spread this life-saving message before one more friend or family member is killed.

"Seat belts save lives and everyone, children and adults in the front seat and back seat, need to remember to buckle up - every trip, every time."

In Michigan, 217 people killed in traffic crashes during 2019 were not wearing a seat belt.

During the 2019 Memorial Day weekend, there were 11 fatal crashes on Michigan roadways that resulted in 13 fatalities. Two of the 13 deaths involved a driver and a passenger not wearing seat belts.

In Michigan, the seat belt usage rate in 2019 was 94.4 percent. The national seat belt use rate in 2019 was 90.7 percent.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) estimates that seat belt use in passenger vehicles saved 14,955 lives nationwide in 2017. Seat belts are the single most effective way to stay alive in a crash. According to the NHTSA, buckling up in the front seat can reduce the risk of serious injury or death in a crash by 45 percent.

Michigan law requires drivers, front-seat passengers and passengers 15 and younger in any seating position to be buckled up.

The fine and associated costs for not wearing a seat belt is $65. Children must be in a car seat or booster seat until they are 8 years old or 4 feet, 9 inches tall, and children under 4 years old must be in the back seat.

The OHSP coordinates the Click It or Ticket effort, which is supported by federal traffic safety funds.

Former teacher to serve 9-30 years for sexual assaults

A former teacher at both Wayne Memorial and Northville high schools will serve nine to 30 years in prison after being convicted of five counts of first-degree sexual conduct with a student at Cedar Crest Academy.

Jason Dean, 37, of Livonia, who was sentenced to prison May 20, also served as a coach with the area-wide Michigan Hawks girls' soccer team.

The victim, now an adult, was in the eighth grade at the time of the original sexual incidents. She went to police with her complaints last year, explaining that Dean had begun the campaign of sexual abuse in 2010 when he was associated with Cedar Crest Academy in Springfield Township. When he was arrested in 2020, Dean was teaching at Northville High School.

The victim told police that Dean took a "special interest" in her as she was a soccer and basketball player at the school. She said that months of sexual activity occurred with Dean, including in the school classroom and at Dean's apartment.

Following Dean's arraignment on the charges, allegations of inappropriate conduct of a sexual nature were reported at both the Wayne and Northville high schools where he previously was employed.

Dean entered a plea of no-contest to the charges and through his attorney agreed to a minimum of nine years in prison with prosecutors.

During Dean's sentencing, the victim told the court, "I was stuck with the decision of ensuring that this does not happen to another child. Obviously, I chose to report because I couldn't live knowing what I know and not doing anything to prevent it from happening again."

While Dean issued an apology for his actions during the court sentencing, including a Biblical quote, Judge Yasmine Poles called his actions "deplorable."

"Your action is a reason why parents lie awake at night terrified about where they're going to drop their children off the next day, to what childcare, to what teacher, to what coach," she said before handing down Dean's sentence. She said that she would not allow Dean's actions to reflect badly on those professions in the community and that he as "the bad actor" would serve the prison time as the punishment he "deserved and well earned."
